

THE UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

Adopted by the Regents
April 18, 2013

Regents Communication

ACTION REQUEST

Subject: Report of Faculty Retirement

Action Requested: Adoption of Retirement Memoir

Timothy T. Nostrant, M.D., professor of internal medicine and associate chief of the Division of Gastroenterology in the Medical School, retired from active status on February 28, 2013.

Dr. Nostrant received his A.B. degree from the University of Rochester in 1969 and his M.D. degree from the University at Buffalo, The State University of New York in 1973. At the University of Michigan he completed an internal medicine internship (1973-74), an internal medicine residency (1974-76), a research fellowship in gastroenterology (1976-77), and a clinical fellowship (1977-79). He joined the University of Michigan faculty as an instructor in 1979, and was promoted to assistant professor in 1980, associate professor in 1986, and professor in 1996.

Dr. Nostrant's research and clinical experience focused on the field of gastroenterology with particular emphasis on the areas of injection treatment for esophageal motility disorders, cancer surveillance and prevention strategies, new endoscopic treatments for acid reflux disease, and new cytokine directed treatments for irritable bowel disease (IBD). He published over 100 peer-reviewed journal articles, 17 non-peer reviewed journals articles, 29 book chapters, and more than 40 abstracts. A highly respected clinician, Dr. Nostrant has been listed in The Best Doctors in America since 2000 and was recognized as a top doctor by the International Association of Internists in 2010. He held numerous leadership positions including associate chief of the Division of Gastroenterology from 1996-2013. He has served as a member of the National Foundation for Ileitis and Colitis Physician Education Committee and governor of the American College of Gastroenterology for multiple terms. Dr. Nostrant received the Outstanding Clinician Award from the University of Michigan Medical School in 2008.

The Regents now salute this distinguished faculty member by naming Timothy T. Nostrant professor emeritus of internal medicine.

Requested by:

Sally J. Churchill, J.D.
Vice President and Secretary of the University

April 2013