Subject: Report of Faculty Retirement

Action Requested: Adoption of Retirement Memoir

Mohamed E. Bayou, Ph.D., professor of accounting, College of Business, University of Michigan-Dearborn, retired from active faculty status on October 31, 2013.

Professor Bayou received his B.S. degree from the University of Libya in 1969, his M.S. degree from the University of Wisconsin in 1972, and both his M.B.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Cincinnati in 1983. He served on the faculty of Northern Kentucky University (1981-84), Xavier University (1984-87), and the University of Detroit (1987-90). He joined the University of Michigan-Dearborn faculty as an assistant professor in 1990, and was promoted to associate professor in 1996, and professor in 2003.

Professor Bayou's teaching and research focused on the fields of management accounting, cost accounting, controllership, financial accounting, and international accounting. He authored and co-authored numerous publications in the leading accounting journals. Professor Bayou secured funding from the U.S. Department of State and the U.S. Agency for International Development to establish two international programs focused on the development of educational partnerships and the training of entrepreneurs in modern business practices. He was a frequent invited lecturer and actively involved in regional and national professional organizations including the American Accounting Association, the Decision Science Institute, and the Institute of Management Accountants. Professor Bayou received the Society of Automotive Engineering's Arch T. Colwell Merit Award in 1995.

The Regents now salute this dedicated scholar and educator for his dedicated service by naming Mohamed E. Bayou professor emeritus of accounting.
