ACTION REQUEST

Subject: Report of Faculty Retirement

Action Requested: Adoption of Retirement Memoir

Hugh E. Huntley, Ph.D., associate professor of mechanical engineering in the College of Engineering and Computer Science, University of Michigan-Dearborn, retired from active faculty status on April 30, 2024.

Professor Huntley received his Bachelor in General Studies degree in 1983 from the University of Michigan. He earned his Master of Science in Engineering degree in mechanical engineering and his Ph.D. degree in applied mechanics from the University of Michigan in 1987 and 1992, respectively. He joined the University of Michigan-Dearborn faculty in 1992 as an assistant professor of mechanical engineering. He was promoted to the rank of associate professor in 1998.

Professor Huntley's research interests are in the areas of nonlinear elasticity, viscoelasticity, and plasticity. Prior to joining the university, he worked as a development engineer for Sarns/3M and a technical editor for the law firm Joscelyn & Treat, P.C.

Professor Huntley is an active member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and a previous member of the former Michigan Teachers of Mechanics. His achievements were recognized by the University of Michigan-Dearborn with the campus Distinguished Teaching Award in 1996 and the Faculty Appreciation Award in 1998.

The Regents now salute this distinguished teacher and scholar by naming Hugh E. Huntley, associate professor emeritus of mechanical engineering.
