ACTION REQUEST

Subject: Report of Faculty Retirement

Action Requested: Adoption of Retirement Memoir

Douglas J. Quint, M.D., professor of radiology (Division of Neuroradiology and Magnetic Resonance Imaging, Department of Radiology, Michigan Medicine) in the Medical School, retired from active faculty status on July 19, 2021.

Dr. Quint received his B.A. (1978) degree from Wesleyan University and his M.D. (1982) degree from Cornell University. He completed his radiology residency at the University of Michigan Medical Center in 1986 and his neuroradiology fellowship at the Henry Ford Hospital in 1988. He joined the University of Michigan faculty as an assistant professor in 1988, and was promoted to associate professor in 1994, and professor in 2000.

Dr. Quint published more than 120 peer-reviewed manuscripts, several books, and presented more than 500 conferences on a wide range of topics predominantly dealing with adult and pediatric central nervous system imaging of various pathologic processes and also wrote and spoke about medical student and resident education. One of his key articles appeared in the Journal of the American Medical Association titled “Indications for Emergent MRI of the Central Nervous System” in 2000. Dr. Quint was involved in the training of more than 350 radiology residents and more than 130 neuroradiology fellows. He was recognized for his dedication to education with multiple teaching awards from the radiology, neurosurgery, neurology, and psychiatry departments. He was awarded the University of Michigan Medical Center Outstanding Clinician Award in 2014 and was inducted into the Michigan Medicine League of Educational Excellence in 2013 and the Michigan Medicine League of Clinical Excellence in 2015. He was elected a fellow of the American College of Radiology in 2009. At Michigan, Professor Quint was a longstanding member of the Clinical Care Review Committee (Medical Legal Review Committee), the Child Abuse Committee, the Medical School Admission Committee, and the Department of Radiology’s Residency Selection Committee. On a national level, he served for many years as an oral boards examiner for the American Board of Radiology certifying residents in radiology and fellows in the subspecialty of neuroradiology.

The Regents now salute this distinguished faculty member by naming Douglas J. Quint, professor emeritus of radiology.
